

As Queen B struts down the hallway, she comes outside only to find the leader of the witch finders. Known as Edo Voss, Baba Voss's brother, Baba has searched for years to strike down Edo. Though it looks like Queen B might get that done for him. -ehhh look at this. The famous warrior queen of Pia. Edo said.-what do you want from us Edo. Queen B asked in a pit of anger.-i we want you...my queen Edo said. -not your queen, not a warrior, I'm a protector. Queen B stated. Edo let queen B know she had two options. One, you can give up your kingdom, and I take over, or, you loose Alvin and your sisters. I'll give you some time to decide. Edo stated as he walked back to his carage. Queen B walks back towards the palace and slowly shuts the front door. As Queen B stood there for a short while before bursting into tears. Just as Lord Harlen arrived he came to comfort the distressed queen. Hey hey what happened is everything ok? Asked Lord Harlen. She could barely explain to him that she hadn't known what she would do. He explained to Harlen that this is why Baba should have killed Edo. Harlen continues to comfort her furthermore. By telling her that Alvin and her sisters are ever so strong. And so is Queen B. Queen B looks up slightly at Harlen for a few seconds. She hadn't felt any other way besides safe in that moment. She reaches up for Harlen's face and gives him a kiss on his cheek. Harlen could see the gratefulness in her eyes. Harlen is rather confused and Britt can see it. Queen B suddenly apologizes for the kiss, though Harlen insisted she keep her apology, because he knows it was out of appreciation.

a few moments later, Harlen leaves her presence and promises her he'll be outside watching in case anything happens. -what about Alvin? She asked. Is he ok? Asked Queen B. He promised her he'd live, but left her unassured that he wouldn't get injured in the process. Harlen quickly walks out the back door of the palace and climbed up onto the roof posted up with his bow and arrow in case queen B is teamed up on. Though Harlen knows she's one of the greatest warriors the nine kingdoms have ever seen, it doesn't mean she can't get injured or possibly killed. Queen B got back up and slowly opened the door, with the mean look of the devil in her flaming eyes. As Edo gets off his horse, he looks at Brittany while asking her if she's made up her mind.-No. I will not. Kill me first before my kingdom and the people I care for. said Queen B.-vary well then,. Said Edo. Me too! Shouted Sibith. Queen B had not been surprised to see Sibith, but yet happy to see her, and ready to kill her. Edo steps forward towards Queen B with a bit of fear of her in his stomach. He quickly draws his sword and swings it at Brittany only to be surprised at her defense move against sudden attackers, and was instantly surprised at how quickly she was able to evade Edo's sword. Now Queen B knows she can beat Edo, even though he's twice her size. But she's unsure if she can beat Sibith or at least disable her, due to Sibith's similar heavy training but doesn't fight for her country. Queen B ever so slowly draws her sword while placing her hand next to her knife strapped around her leg. As she finished drawing her sword, she closes her eyes and makes her first move towards Edo. Suddenly it's almost like Queen B went ghost to all the witch finders, as they couldn't see her because they were blind. She picks up a rock and throws it as hard as she can to the gravel near her palace. As all the blind witch finders make way to the rock's landing sight, they still can't find her. Shit got real pretty quick after that.

She reenacted the communication sounds the which finders use and confused them making them stand still while still searching. She makes her first attack on the one furthest from Edo. As Brittany is not blind she can fight with sight. She taps the first one on his right shoulder making him turn right. She then puts him in a headlock and slowly drags her sword across his neck and lies him down instantly killing the soldier. As Queen B takes out the rest of them slowly and quietly Edo starts to notice it's getting more and more quiet around him. He then started to search for B only to not know she's right behind him. On the rooftop, Harlen is sortof surprised to hear the soldiers dropping like flies. Edo suddenly stops walking and turns around finding Brittany's blade up against his throat.

He quickly throws B off him and charged towards her. But little did his blind ass know she had already gotten up. As Edo charges at Brittany she strikes Edo's face with her sword cutting it wide open.-hahaha uhh well, it looks like you've got some fire in you after all, Brittany!! I have been waiting to meet this...so called warrior queen that everyone's been telling me so much about. Edo yelled. Edo gets ready to attack again, but Queen B wouldn't let it happen. As Brittany was about to end Edo, Sibith showed up behind her. Sibith takes out a small handgun and tries to hit Britt and she shot Queen B in her leg. Sibith goes to take another shot but misses because she is blind as well. After being knocked down by the bullet she tries her hardest to get back up before Sibith takes another shot. She charges as quickly as she can towards Sibith and with a tear still in her left eye she closes her eyes and decapitated Sibith Cane. She looks back only to find that Edo has ran. While breathing heavily in distress, she tries to stay awake, but passes out thirty seconds later from exhaustion. While all the witch finders were dead, or appeared to be, Harlen rushed down to pick up the beautiful injured queen. Not much longer later, Harlen brings Queen B into her room where Alvin had been waiting there hopelessly for her to return. As soon as Alvin saw what condition Queen B had been in he immediately freaked out thinking she was no longer with us. He was screaming at the top of his lungs unable to hear a word Lord Harlen had said.-She's alive! Yelled Harlen. What?

Asked Alvin.-She's alive! Stop freaking out. Said Harlen. Harlen lies the injured queen on the couch close to the balcony, where the queen's town of Elies can be seen at vast distances. Lord Harlen tells Alvin he needs a bowl of room temp-warm water to clean her wounds. As Alvin gathers the necessary materials to treat her wounds, Harlen was adjusting her injured leg, and applied a tourniquet to stop any bleeding.-ok, here's the water and I got a deeply cleaning towel and the soap. Queen B is now starting to awaken, and is wanting to know what happened. As she fully awakens, she is going on about Edo and how he escaped. Though she's telling them, she wants to go and get Edo,-we have to let him go.said Harlen. I know you're feeling gased up, but that's because you were just in battle. Alvin stated. Britt, I won't let you go out there after him. Your injured. Alvin said. It'll be ok I promise. I'll be here to comfort you the whole time. Alvin insured.-ok, I'll leave you two be. Harlen said. Harlen? Said Queen B. Thank you...said the injured queen. As Harlen walked out the room with a slight smile on his face knowing his queen was ok. Here just lean forward. I have to get this sword off your back. Requested Alvin. As she leaned forward, that's when her pain started from the gunshot. Shh shh shh.. it's ok, just breathe in and out...said Alvin. As he gently removed the sword from it's holster and removed the holster from B's back. Ohh that's better.. said B. As Alvin gently set them down on the table beside them before taking the sword into the shower to remove the blood. A sign of a strong queen in the flesh. As Alvin returned, he sat on the floor next to Britt seeing her half asleep. How did I find such an amazing strong girl like you? Alvin rhetorically asked while in a sorta happy tear to she she made it back inside. Alvin? He gets up just to respond to her need. He sat there and looked at her for a second and by the way she was looking at him, she just wanted something from him. She sits up slightly, and lies her hand on his face. Leaning her face in slowly, there heads touch, and she rests her lips on his for a long loving kiss. Here Alvin I'm going to walk to my bed over there I'll feel better over there if you wanna join me. Brittany said in a calm attracting voice. Alvin wanted to carry her, but she insisted. She wouldn't let him. As Alvin walks over to the bed alongside Britt he helps her climb into bed. Alvin removes his armor and shirt and joins her to lie down. As he crawled into the bed and lies alongside Brittany, she asks a question that got Alvin thinking about love. Hey Alvin? Britt asked. Yeah? He replied. -Have you ever wanted children?asked Britt. -actually yeah. I just haven't found anyone. He replied.- ok, well what about me? Said B. What do you mean Britt. Asked Alvin. -like with me...have you ever wondered what it's like to have children or make love? Asked Queen B.- well yeah many times. It's just that well if I were to get you pregnant, then that would put our country at great risk. And the baby too. We are the only ones who can see. The prophecy will change. Replied Alvin.-Ok, but for the better said Britt. I suppose.

Replied Alvin.-but have you ever wondered what it's like to..ya know..make love with the one you care for? Without being pregnant. Asked B.-well yeah..but I thought you were married to Harlen. Said Alvin. I am, but he's there to help rule and help make sure our country is safe. Said B. Ok, so what you've been trying to say this whole time, is you want to make love with me? Asked Alvin. Now Queen B is blushing uncontrollably. Yeah.. replied Britt while still blushing. Let us find out what love actually feels like Alvin. Said Britt. As Alvin proceeds to climb on top of Brittany, he lays a kiss on her lips. Don't worry I'll be gentle... Alvin insured.
